STRIKERS REPUDIATE THE OUTRAGE-CROWDS AT THE STORES.

There were hundreds of people who visited yesterday the seene of Sanday morning a explosion at Grand and Allen sts. There was but little to satisfy the curiosity seekers, however, and but for the unusual crowd and the four policemen who kept the throng moying, the ordinary observer would not have suspected the existence of any extraordinary attraction. At an early hour there were a score of workmen at work at Ridley's store, and the damage to the show-windows was entirely repaired before noon. The show-windows of Garry Brothers also underwent repairs, but the work did not progress rapidly, and the window on the Allen-st, side of the store was still hung with the heavy blankets that did driv on Sunday for glass.

At both stores a rushing business was done. When the people found so hitle to satisfy them on the outside they passed in, and in many cases made purchases in order to get interviews with the employes. The rush at Garrys' was larger than at any time since their trouble with their employes, and both brothets were smilling and apparently happy. Thomas Lewis, from whom they rent the store, was asked what he thought of the explosion. He shrugged his shoulders, and said he only knew what had been published in the papers, but he expressed the opinion that "if things kept on in this way" not only property, but life, would be eadangered. The two Grand-st, merchants who were with Fitzpatrick and other members of the Equality Association late on Saturday night called on the Garry Brothers early yesterday, extended their sympathy, and said they were not favorable to the strikers. Their being with them on Saturday night was purely accidental.

The four men who were arrested on Sunday remining as prophably having caused the explosion.

they were not favorable to the Strikers. Their decing with them on Saturday night was purely accidental.

The four men who were arrested on Sunday morning as probably having caused the explosion were arraigned in Essex Market Police Court yesterday morning before Justice Smith. Captain Allaire told the Justice that a thorough investigation of the case and the previous history of the men had convinced him that the stories related by them as to why they happened along at the time of the explosion were probably trae. The Justice discharged them.

The *striking employes of Garry Brothers held a meeting at No. 68½ Orchard-st. about noon. Resolutions were passed condemning the use of denamite, characterizing the outrage as an abominable crime and offering any assistance in their power to the police to ferret out the criminal. Joseph Flannery, who is the secretary of the association formed by the strikers, said:

That we or the Equality Association should be accused of naving been the cause of the explosion either directly or indirectly is an outrage upon us. Why, if we should be guilty of such things we would be the kreatest sufferers and not the persons whose premises might be sufferers and not the persons whose premises might be sufferers and not the persons whose premises might be farry Brothers and used all other honerable means to bring them to terns, but we do not favor the use of dynamite. The seven men who left our ranks and went back to Garry Brothers are more to blame for all ill-feeting than we. They say that they must carry revolvers, that we are a dangerous set and may molest them, and all that sort of thing. They need have no fear of us. The lest part of the clerks of Garry Brothers are with us. The Garrys say they have plenty of help. So they have for the trade they have been doing since we left them.

The police are hard at work in their efforts to discover the authors of the outrage and are confident of speedy success. As a result of the consultation Sunday afternoon between Captain Allaire and Inspectors Murray and Byrnes some of the brightest of the detectives attached to Inspector Byrnes's staff have been detailed on the case, and Captain Allaire has a number of men in citizens' elections at work lothes at work. Captain Allaire said yesterday:

Captain Allaire said yesterday:

We are busy on the case and are positive of good results. It is not easy to prevent individual cases of explosion. A can is easily placed in the position where the one at Garry Brothers' store did its work, and to prevent all cases of such outrages would require the placing of an officer at each building. This is the busiest precinct in the city. It is the hot-bed of socialism and everything else that is bad. We have only two platoons, or forty-six men. There is no doubt but that the stuff was dynamite, but probably it was of inferior quality. It was set in a can, and was surrounded by powder for the purpose of exploding the dynamite. The fuse, from what I can gather, was about four feet long. I must not tell at present what clews we are working on.

A PICTURESQUE SCENE OF DISTRESS. THE PLACE WHERE A MAN ALLEGED TO BE MEZZE-ROFF LIES WOUNDED.

ROFF LIES WOUNDED.

There is a man of many aliases lying in a vacant left which is swept by freezing draights at No. 352 First-st., Brooklyn. His head is almost beaten into a pulp and his countenance disfigured beyond recognition. Nebody in the neighborhood seems to know who the wounded man really is, or who his assailant was. His present abode, which he has occupied with his wife for the past seven months, is a big storehouse where nobody ever lived before. There are two floors. The ground floor is blocked across by a counter behind which a partition runs, and beyond this nobody was ever permitted to pass.

and beyond this hoosely was expensed.

"Nobody shall come up here, and my husband will see nobody," said a good-looking young woman at the foot of a staircase which leads to the loft.

"They say he's Professor Mezzeroff, but he isn't. Here is what my husband wrote, and that's all he'll say." The woman then handed the reporter the following written in pencil.

The report that was made by a sun reporter on 2d day of feruary is entirely, untrue. I am not Professor Mezzeroff and I can positively say that the statement is untrue. My name is R. M. Rogers, and I am following a legitimate business.

"Send up that man," said a hoarse voice above, and the reporter ascended the stairs.

"Lift me up, dear," said the wounded man, until I get a look at this person, so that I may know him again. Any one who ever assailed me will have to look out," and he took a long look, groaned painfully several times, and then lay back in the bed shivering. His head is bald; his face all black, and a deep coloring of the same kind almost conceads his ever. His left jaw is swollen to an abnormal extent, being down three or four inches below the right one. Directly over the left eye on the top of his head there is a deep wound. His left arm is almost disabled from a heavy blow which he received on the shoulder. On a chair close to the bed was a huge dog sitting upon his haunches and eyeing his master sorrowfully.

"Mezzeroff had a big dog I believe, and that's why they thought I was the dynamite professor."

"How did this assault occur ?" asked the reporter.

"On Friday night," said the victim, "a tall fel-

"How did this assault occur?" asked the reporter.
"On Friday night," said the victim, "a tall fellow with red mustache, side whiskers and bloated-looking eyes came in. He wore a slouch hat. What's the rent of this place? said he. 'I don't let it,' said I. Then he raised a huge slungshot, swung it around his head and felled ne to the ground. He followed it up with several blows that made me insensible, and then ran away. I lost $27,600 speculating in Wall Street," he went on, "and spoke for the People's party during the late campaign. But I am not Mezzeroff, be sure to say that."

Division-ave. "I believe," said he, "that the mysterions man is connected with the Feniaus, but I do not know whether or not he is Mezzeroff. He is a man of education. I first met him in connection with a fluid he invented for preserving human bodies." Barney Woods, keeper of a "sporting" resert at the corner of North Ninth and Second sis, said the man was known in his place, where he often engaged in walking matches, as "the professor," "Dr. Cromwell." "the Indian scout," and so on. The police do not know who the man is.

BATTLING WITH THE ELEMENTS.

SIMON-HER RUDDER BROKEN, SIMON—HER RUDDER BROKEN.

The few passengers who arrived yesterday on the French Line steamship St. Simon from Havre had not enjoyed their sixteen days' experience in heavy storms with the asual resuits—seasiekness, damage to vessel and fear of greater disaster. The condition of the vessel also gave proof of a severe battles with the ocean's terrors, in the loss of one of her boats and a portion of the deck structure. The vessel sailed on January 17, and was retarded by the pitching and rolling and battling with sea mountains in three different tempests. The first bad weather was on the third day and was considered a fair winter gale. After twenty-four hours, moderate weather followed for a couple of days, when another severe gale filled the passengers with fear.

when another severe gale filled the passengers with fear.

The clouds broke and the gale moderated on January 23, but on the Sunday night following Father Neptune again burst forth in his greatest fury. The vessel bounded over sea and plunged into guit, only to rise upon another green moustain and dive into the abyss. On Monday morning the sea was furious, and the straining and creaking of the masts and hull only increased the fear of the passengers. Soon one of the rudder chains parted and for a moment control of the vessel was interrupted. She partly broached to, when a tremendous sea broke over the ship, sweeping the small smoking-room from the upper deck. At the same time one of the boats was torn from the davits and a flood of water rushing into the cabia, the passengers, who were at breakfast, became almost frantic. The captain soon restored confidence and the necessary remains were made to the steering apparatus and other parts of the vessel damaged, and on the following day the weather moderated.

The British "ocean tramp" Coniston, which sailed from Liverpoot for this port, in ballast, on December 24, has not been heard from and there are grave apprehonsions regarding her safety. Her commander is Captain Owens, and her crew are mostly British seamen.

A CRICKET CLUB'S ELECTION. The annual meeting of the Staten Island Cricket Club was held at No. 50 Walt-st, yesterday. W. M. Betts, the treasurer, reported that the club had $411 59 in the treasury and did not owe a dellar.

The officers elected for the current year are: President, William Krebs; vice-president, Erastus Wilman; treasurer, William M. Betts; and secretary, N. S. Walker. The directors are: George S. Scofield, ir., T. A. Vyse, William M. Donald, George C. Allen and W. K. Jewett. The club is in a pucker about its grounds. It is owned by the St. George Improvement Company and the company, it seems, may want it as soon as the club's lease expires, which will be at the close of the coming season. A committee was appointed to get a definite answer from the owner of the ground regarding his future intentions, and if the grounds cannot be released to obtain the refusal of another plot. The club now numbers 538 members.

ASSETS THAT NEED MUCH SIFTING. WHAT THE SCHEDULES OF JOHN J. CISCO & SON

SHOW.

The schedules of John J. Cisco & Son, the firm embracing John A. Cisco and Frederick W. Foote, were filed yesterday. They give the habilities as $2,987,446, the nominal assets as $3,294,449, and the actual assets as $2,467,371. The assets embrace railroad securities and leans. The difference in theitwo classes of assets is attributed to the firm's mability te collect the sums due. The nominal and actual assets of Mr. Cisco are $77,000, and $32,000 respectively, encumbrances being the cause of the difference. Mr. Foote's nominal individual estate is put in at $153,500, actually worth $21,500, the difference being attributed to shrinkage of values. The firm say that the securities have been placed in the schedules at much less than their intrinsic value, and that the assets would be largely increased by a realization in the value of the securities held by the firm.

FXACTING MONEY FROM POLICEMEN.

Policomen who were receiving $800 agreed last winter to pay $25 each if a bill to increase their pay could be carried through the Legislature. The bill was passed and the law which raised the saliaries to $1,000, $1,100 and $1,200 went into effect on January 1. It was understood that the promised subscriptions would be paid yesterday, but many of the men rejused to pay because the persons who were to receive to money had done little for them. Superintendent Walling yesterday received a letter from a policeman inclosing the following circular:

Dear Sir: Please inclose the amount of your contribution to defray the expense of Salary bill and return to or to the delegate of your precinct, who will see that the amount corresponds with the amount written on the slip which he will seal in your presence.

Amount, $25.

While Mr. Walling was in a state of indignation he received a cali from Major Haggerty, who introduced the bill last swinter. Mr. Haggerty said that the bill was brawn by Commissioner Matthews and was passed without expense or opposition, and the collection indicated in the letter must be a swindle. The Supermicadent sent an alarm to all the precincts, declaring that any policeman who was asked to pay money for the passage of the bill would be protected in refusing. The delegates will be called to Police Headquarters to-day, and an effort will be made to ascertain the names of the persons who claim pay for the alleged services at Albany. If all the $800 policemen had paid up, the amount would have been about $15,000.

NEARLY CRUSHED TO DEATH BY A WAGON.

Two laborers in the employ of the Mutual Gas Light Company dag a hole in Chatham-st., near Chambers-st., yesterday, to get at a leaky pipe. John Conneil was at work in the excavation, waen Richard Burns, a baker, of No. 40 Fulton-st., drove a wagon loaded with crackers in that direction. Burns did not notice the pit until his horses had passed close to its edge. Warning shouts were uttered by several persons, but Burns did not hear them in time. One wheel of the wagon dropped into the hole, and then the wagon toppeled over upon Conneil. Burns escaped injury. The horses stopped, and Conneil was pinned fast by the heavily leaded wagon. The weight pressed directly on his breast. A large crowd gathered, and two policemen began to tug at the wagon, They were assisted by a number of men but they could not budge the heavy load, and their efforts only increased the sufferings of Council. At the end of fifteen minutes Conneil was nearly senseless from pain and his inability to breathe freely.

The crowd had swelled to 1,000 men before some one brought levers to raise the wagon, Coancil was extracted in a healess condition and taken to the NEARLY CRUSHED TO DEATH BY A WAGON.

The crowd had swelled to 1,000 men before some one brought levers to raise the wagon. Coanell was extricated in a helpless condition and taken to the Chambers Street Hospital. It was said that the bones of his chest had been crushed in and that his minry was dangerous. Before the wagon was lifted out of the hole the street cars were crowded together for a distance of several blocks. Several bushels of crackers were left in the street. The wagon had shown a disposition to tumble over on its side, and a score of curious citizens who were in immiment danger of being killed were pressed into service by the police as props for their own preserimment danger of being affine were possess in service by the police as props for their own preservation. When every blockaded street-car within sight had yielded up its quota of willing hands the truck was finally lifted out and righted and a special guard was set over the hole.

DID THE PISTOL GO OFF BY ACCIDENT?

Miss Georgie Benedict, who claimed that she was accidentally shot on Sunday night, in her room at the Oriental Hotel, at Central and De Kalb aves, Brookiyn, while in company with "Joe" Pendergast, a pugilist and liquor seller, was reported to be in a dying condition at St. Mary's Hosnital yesterday. In her ante-mortem statement she adhered to the story that she shot herself accidentally. She said that the revolver was given to her by Pendergast early in the evening and she laid it on a shelf of the dressing-case. Over it she carele-sly threw same face. Later she pulled down the lace, and with it the revolver, which struck the marble top of the dressing-case and went off, the builet entering her abdomen. She declared Pendergast was sitting on the edge of the bed with his back to her at the time. Her clothing was burned by the powder, the revolver being so close to her. Pendergast was taken before Police Superintendent Campbell, where he declared the shooting accidental, and subsequently before District-Attorney Ridgway, who released him upon his own recognizance, as the aute-mortem statement of the woman exhanorated him. DID THE PISTOL GO OFF BY ACCIDENT!

ON TRIAL FOR SELLING IMPURE QUININE. By the direction of Dr. Cyrus Edson, forty or fifty samples of quinine have been purchased from as many druggists and are undergoing analysis.

The first arrest was made yesterday, Paul F. Gebicke, a pharmacist of No. 409 Third-ave, in the Jefferson Market Court was charged with violating a section of the Sanitary code by selling to an officer of the Sanitary Bureau, ten powders of sulphate of quinine adulterated with a large quantity of milk sugar by which the strength and efficiancy of the quinine as a medicine were greatly destroyed. The druggist did not attempt to dispute the analysis, but pleaded that he had purchased the powders as pure quinine and did not bimself alter its condition. His stock of quinine had run out and to supply an emergency he sent his wife to another drug-store in Third-ave., where a small quantity was purchased. Mr. Gebicke was put under $100 bail to answer at General Sessions which was furnished by William Gick of No. 438 Third-ave.

BEEKMAN GIVES BEERS A THRUST.

BEEKMAN GIVES BEERS A THRUST.

The Board of Estimate yesterday distributed $40,258 of excise moneys among charitable institutions. When the question of paying John E. Parsons, Theron G. Strong and Henry R. Beekman $10,000 for defending the Park Commissioners in the proceedings taken against them by the Council of Reform in June came up, Mr. Beekman said that the bill had been audited and ordered paid by the last Board. W. H. Beers, secretary of the Council of Reform, said that the action of the last Board was not final, and that the charge was improper and should not be paid. The minutes of the last Board showed that the bill had been approved and ordered paid, and the amount was included in the tax levy for this present year. Mr. Beekman said to Mr. Beers: "If you people were more particular about the investigations you undertake the city would not be troubled with bills of this kind."

THE REDUCED BRIDGE FARES. THE REDUCED BRIDGE FARES.

The frosty-looking noses of the eccentric people who walked over the Bridge premenade on Sunday and yesterday served to deter the mass of travellers over that wind-swept highway from following their example. This fact prevented Superintendent Martin from ascertaining how popular the new 25-tickets-for-5-cents plan, began on Sunday, will prove to be.

"A good many bought their hundle of tickets and prove to be.

"A good many bought their bundle of tickets and then rode over in the cars," said the ticket-seller at the 'hatham-st, entrance.

"We sold on Sunday," said Mr. Martin, "41,325 tickets. Of the 4,455 people who walked over 2,590 paid their pennics and 1,865 gave tickets. On the previct 18 Sunday 4,100 people went over the promenade. Yesterday we oaly took in $29.63 in cash fares, however, while we secured $41 on the Sunday before. That shows the rate of the falling off in receipts, But the weather is too cold yet to get a clear idea on the subject. Wait a month or six weeks."

THE RUMORS ABOUT CAPTAIN WILLIAMS. THE RUMORS ABOUT CAPTAIN WILLIAMS.

The rumors that trouble is in store for Police Captain Williams on account of the recent raid in hisprecinet by Inspector Byrnes began to assume more positive shape yesterday. It was said that the Board of Police had already considered charges pres nied by Inspector Thorne, but had rejected them because they were drawn with the apparent infention of whitewashing the captain. At a meeting of the Board to-day, it is reported, new charges will be presented by Superintendent. Walling and if there is proof enough to back them up the Board will bring Captain Williams before them for trial within a fortnight, Mr. Walling and the Commissioners refused to talk to reporters on the subject vectorless. sioners refused to talk to reporters on the subject yesterday.

BAD CONDITION OF LONG ISLAND CITY. In a recent report Health Commissioner Ray-mond, of Brooklyn, had the following to say about Long Island City:

Long Island City:

Probably one of the most exposed places to an attack of cholera by its proximity to the water front is Long Island City. It is the worst protected place against an attack of cholera in the whole country. Its municipal government is bad, and hardly any attention whatever is paid to sanitary regulations. No municipal government on the face of the globe can be worse than that of Long Island City and there is not an incorporated city in this country where sanitary laws are more disregarded.

Very Description:

Mayor Petry of Long Island City with a vigorous blow on his desk declared that Dr. Raymond was a blank blank liar, "To throw suspicion off the filthy condition of Brooklyn," he said, "Dr. Raymond takes occasion deliberately to be about Long Island City. This is the cleanest and one of the healthiest cities in the United States and we intend to keep it so. I shall write to Commissioner Raymond and demand an explanation and a retraction," Dr. Dennier, bealth officer of the city, corroborrated the statement of the Mayor.

THREATENING A FLUSHING PLUMBER.

James F. Darmour, a plumber of Flushing, has been receiving anonymous letters threatening him with all sorts of bedfly damage. The first one, sent last summer from this city, advised Mr. Darmour in log, gloomy black letters "to look out for himself, as the Long Island Revenue society was on to him," Presumence that the letter was the work of a frend, Mr. Darmour paid no attention to it. Three weeks ago he received another letter which was conched in even more violent language. It was dared New-York, January 2, and said that the "Long Island Revenue Society" had approved a proposition to put him out of the way by fair means or foul. As the society did not want to kill him in cold blood, it directed him to leave Flushing by March 1, and keep fifty miles away from the village or he would THREATENING A FLUSHING PLUMBER.

rest of the writers. Mr. Darmour is a quiet, inof-fensive mrn., who pursues a good basiness in a quiet way, and he cannot imagine a reason why any one should want to kill him. The theory that the letters are a loke is generally believed, as they afford the first intimation of the existence of so fe-rocious an organization as the "Long Island Re-venge Society." However, Mr. Darmour goes about armed with a revolver and means to make a placky fight if an effort is made to execute the so-called threat.

ASKING CAPTAIN RYAN'S REMOVAL.
Several citizens from the Twenty-first Police Prelact (Eighteenth Ward) asked the Mayor vesterday to have Police Captain Ryan removed. They said that Ryan is overhearing, that he has used vile and abusive language toward citizens and has used his influence improperly at elections. The Mayor said that the Police Commissioners should dispose of the THE STRUGGLE FOR GEOGHEGAN'S ESTATE

The names of two persons were submitted to Surrogate Rollins yesterday, one each by Nelson J. Waterbury and Charles Steckler, that the Surrogate might select one as the special administrator on the estate of Owen Georhegan, in the squabble over his property, made by his self-styled widow Catharine and her child Mary, and by his sisters, Mrs. Ryan and Mrs. Merchilev. and Mrs. McGinley.

THE PRIESS CLUB RECEIVES MGR, CAPEL.

The New-York Press Club gave a reception yesterday at its rooms, No. 120 Nassau st., to Monsignor Capel. He was welcomed by President Cummings, and spoke of the power of the press and the great advance which it has made and is steadily making as an educator of the people. He also spoke of the great army of journalists in this and other cities, and the poor provision made for them as they grow old, and then sketched briefly the provision made for such cases in London and other cities of Great Britain. Many newspaper men were present.

TO DIE FROM INJURIES RECEIVED IN NOVEMBER.
Coroner Messemer vesterday took the ante-mortem statement of Mary Auston, who lies at the point of death at No. 2,032 First-ave. She said that on November 11 a neighbor informed her that har husband was being killed in the street. She run out and found Timothy Mahoney and two other men beating her husband. Mahoney knocked her down and kieked her in the right side. She got up, when Mahoney again struck her, knocking her insensible. Since that time she has been under medical treatment. When the case was called at Special Sessions, Mr. How, a butcher, and Mr. Lemban, wanted her to withdraw the charge of assault, which she did.

BROOKLYN.

Assistant District-Attorney Angel Post Office. Assistant District-Attorney Angel would not enter a formal complaint and issue a warrant on the new charges until he had investigated the matter. He was assured by Colonel Morton that he could explain all that was contained in the new charges. Mr. Angel was satisfied that he could, and would not again put himself in the embarrassing position of presecuting a man whom the Government witnesses declared innocent.

NEW-JERSEY EDITORS AT WAR.

NEW-JERSEY EDITORS AT WAR.

Orrin E. Vanderhoven, editor of The Passaic City Herald, and his son Addison have given bonds to answer the charge of criminal libel made against them by J. P. McDonnell, editor of The Paterson Labor Standard, and Deputy Factory Inspector of New-Jersey. Vanderhoven yesterday in retaliation made a complaint against McDonnell charging him with obtaining money by fraudulent devices and under false pretences. Vanderhoven's complaint is a long one, and is a repetition of the assertions the publication of which from time to time in the Herald lei to the prooceedings for libel instituted by McDonnell. Vanderhoven alleges that McDonnell is a lobbyist who feathers his own nest under a pretence of looking after the interests of labor. He asserts in his complaint that McDonnell, while acting as an officer of the State, gets up entertainments which purport to be in the interests of "labor," whereas the proceeds go into his own pockets, and a certain "$5 a head champagne supper" is instanced, gotten up by McDonnell on the occasion of Governor Abbett's visit to a "labor pienic" at Clifton, when "invitations" nearly related to extortion were sent out to manufacturers and others, who would naturally pay rather than incur the ill will of the Factory Inspector. It is also charged that McDonneil has collected a large amount of money by means of circulars sent to prominent men, who gave their contributions supposing that they would be used for the interests of workingmen, whereas the money went into McDonneil's pocket, and that a check for $25 obtained from ex-Governor George C. Ludlow in this manner went to pay McDonneil's gocery bill.
